2024-FOIA-094	08/13/2024	Benci-Woodward, Jillian	-	The decision making behind and evaluation of the implementation of Fannie Mae Seller's Guide section B2-1.3-03, Cash-Out Refinance Transactions (02/01/2023), Eligibility Requirements, part 2 that states "If an existing first mortgage is being paid off through the transaction, it must be at least 12 months old at the time of refinance, as measured by the note date of the existing loan to the note date of the new loan." I'd appreciate documentation that can address the following: - What was the purpose of this rule? -Was the impact on current and future homeowners evaluated? - Was this decision based on the rising interest rates during the last couple years? Did it take into account the possibility of rates coming down as we've seen in the last month? -Is there a rulemaking package available to review? - What is the waiver process for the 12 month waiting period? If there is not one, why not? Unfortunately this rule has imposed a financial hardship on my family and I'm curious as to the reason behind it.

Our research relies on the 2010 census tracts for empirical analysis. Since the current HPI data available on the FHFA website is based on 2020 boundaries, we aim to avoid any potential measurement errors that may arise from matching between the two census periods. Therefore, we would greatly appreciate it if you could provide access to the HPI data corresponding to the 2010 Census.
